Another disturbance is said to have occurred at the dance hall Saturday night and the attention of the mayor and marshal was called to the matter. The Washingtonville Entertainment Course opens with Koethe & Morehouse at the M. E. Church Thursday night, Oct. 22. Reserved seats for the seven attractions $1.25.

Hunters say that squirrels are carrying a goodly supply of winter feed into hollow trees; and that this year's weeds are unusually high, so as to fur-nish hiding places for quail and other birds. Both these facts are said to indicate a long winter.

That the land in this vicinity is above the average in productiveness may be inferred from the fact that the Bostons dug 205 bushels of potatoes from one acre on Eli Slagle's farm last week. And John Genther threshed 367 bushels of wheat from 12 acres.

The last election in the south preoinct of this village showed a total vote of 154; and a recent poll of the north precinct shows a total of 70 voters, making the entire village have 224 voters; yet there were nearly a dozen who did not vote on the south side on the 3rd.

Monday was moving day with some of our tenants. Bert DeJace moved from Ralph Brain's house into the Thomas Balley property south of town. Elzie Feicht from the Co-op property into the Eliza Wilkinson homestead. Ed. Longbottom moved into the Jumbo

Considerable damage was done by forest fires on the hill south of Lisbon last week, until the rainy weather set in. Many fences and small buildings were burned and only by heroic efforts was the fire kept from the magazine of the Card & Prosser mine, where hundreds of kegs of powder and dynamite are

At the close of preaching services in the M. E. Church Sunday forenoon, the following named officers were chosen for the Sunday school: Superinten-dent, Miss Lillian Woods; assistant, David Klingensmith; secretary, Elsie Klingensmith; assistant, Mrs Frank Paisley; treasurer, Mrs. L. Carrier; organist, Leora Thorp; chorister, Kit

Four miners were suspended at the Peerless mine Saturday for loading sulphur, and on Monday a meeting was called to investigate the matter. The men were restored to their places as it was made clear that to get absolutely clean coal in most of the rooms in No. 3 coal is almost impossible. If this seam could be freed from all impurities it is said to be the best steam coal on the

The lecture course committee met in the high school room Monday night to arrange for the first attraction, Oct. 22, and to appoint the various committees, one of which consists of eight members to canvass this village and Lectonia Our sieter village is now so situated as to car service that there need be no hesitancy in buying season tickets, especially since seven attractions with reserved seats are offered at the low price of $1 25. For the benefit of the widow and famtly of the late James C. Thompson a suit was filed in court at Lisbon Thursday morning by Percy Tetlow, the administrator, against the Card & Prosser Coal Co. for $10,000. The petition charges that while in the employ of the company as mule driver on June 18, this year, Mr. Thompson was killed by the falling of a huge piece of state from the roof which was uncribbed or protected. The plaintiff claims that the defendant company was negligent in not having the properly protected. irs. Lewis Reed of this village brought action against her son-in-law, George Baker, at East Palestine last for $110 for services in caring for Mrs. Baker during a protracted fillness of eleven weeks at $10 a week. The trial was held before John H. Logan, J. P., and a jury. The attorneys were W. S. Emmons of Salem, and Everett Lyons of East Palestine. The witnesses in attendance from here were Mrs. J. C. Baker, Frank Paisley and wife, Mrs. Percy Tetiow and Dr. S. V. Kennedy. The verdict was for the defendant, Mr.

Baker.

Graders are at work with plows and scrapers on the Cherry Valley sisted dump filling the approaches to the east end bridge, and are unearthing some good samples of No. 4 coal, which are being eagerly picked up by residents in that locality for domestic use. The grading east of the bridge will likely require about ten days' work, and those require about ten days' work, and those who have rubbish upon their lots that seds hauling away are at liberty to ump on the side next to town until rading begins there. The bridge roper is completed and is certainly a cod and substantial piece of work, for high the commissioners of both coun-me may well be congratulated.

the Natural Gas Co. The Salt Lake Tribune and the Danver News are high in their praise of the Choral Society which won $1,000 prize at the Salt Lake Eisteddfod on the first of this month. It will be remembered that a former Washingtonville lady was among the 125 singers who won such praise from competent judges of music

The Peerless miners appear to be in a peck o' trouble. They thought they had an understanding with the com pany as to loading the maximum amount of sulphur; but when they went to work Wednesday morning it appears that the company had "renigged," and the miners came home

The mayor and police of East Liver pool made a raid upon a gang of boot-legers last Sunday and landed 21 of them in the city cooler and captured $1,000 worth of liquors. The raid was made on the Ohio river, and inasmuch as speakeasies have no government license, the right to follow them into other states was not questioned by the U. S. authorities. Thomas MacCullum, pit boss at Millville, organized a class of young men in the high school room Friday night for the purpose of teaching them in the es-sentials of mining. His talks will be along the line of ventilation, carbon gases, electricity and the entire field of technical mining, covering a series of 26 free lectures, one night each week. # POLITICAL POINTS POINTEDLY PUT Frosty atmospherically. Not warm politically. Is Debs coming, too.

"Our Jim" is konfident.

Why didn't the mills run under Ted-Steve and Ralph are putting old General Apathy to rout.

Since when have politics been tabooed from the Diamond?

The way to make Socialist votes is to errest Socialist orators.

Saloonists don't like that old melody: The Camels are Comin', The mills will probably not knock off work the day Bryan comes.

Everybody who expects to vote or do jury service must register this year. We have universal transfers now but the street cars are as crowded as ever. Bring over your pumpkin jack o'lan-erns and celebrate Hallowe'en with us. When Bryan comes it will not be necseary to hire anybody to march in his opor. Another murder in town. It might pay to have Billy Sunday sojourn here a while.

Something wrong. Not a bit of talk these days about a new daily paper for this city. Nordica sang here Monday and made thousand bones. She is a high singer all right.

Is there any truth in the rumor that Beard is trying to put Steve out with a milk-punch? The Socialists are wise. Knowing this a steel city they sent a Bessemer converter here.

The old Mahoning is standing the drouth remarkably well. Its water is too thick to evaporate.

The dog-catcher finds there is no canine race suicide in this city and he is mighty glad there is not. Here is a problem that keeps our Jim awake o' nights: What if all the drys in the district vote for Elins? The contributions Bryan is receiving from Youngstown's big corporations can be carried in a lady's purse. The presidential campaign was drop-ped as a subject of discussion here during the Detroit-Chicago games. If Taft is elected he ought to remem ber that there is an energetic citizen in Youngstown named J. G. Butler, jr. Some politicians may learn to their sorrow that they labored under the de-lusion that this city is the entire county. J. G. Butler jr., has added a number of paintings to his Indian gallery. He still lacks portraits of the New Castle

The competition among the city's moving picture shows ought to gladden the hearts of all anti-trust cranks and anti-monopolists. If all judges were as auxious to clean up their dockets as Judge Robinson is, there would be no ground for criticism of the law's delay.

The fact the street car company compels its conductors to show eighteen dollars in real money shows that prosperity is on the way There is an excellent opening here just now for correspondence school agents to interest our bartenders in mail courses in pharmacy. "Nip" Banes is our prince of high divers. The only trouble is, there is no water deep enough around here to permit him to break the world's record.

Julius Cosel, here from New York for short stay on his old stamping grounds, declares in sober earnest that New York state is certain to go for Taft and Hughes. Is a man who offers a political cure all on the streets any more of a law-breaker than the fakir who sells tapeworm remedies or corn-cures on our thoroughfares, ye vigilant blue-coats? The colored voter is receiving so much attention this year that his head may be turned and he may compete with the Cambrians for all the places

Wallace Pettit and sister, Mrs. Geo. Gardner, of Salem, together with Mrs. Marietta Pettit and daughter, Miss Jettie of Adair ate their Sunday dinner at Mrs. Pettit's Damascus residence rea couple of weeks. Several Damascus residents will install gas for light and heating purposes now that the main will pass through the village. Jefferson Stanley, respected citizen living near Stark Electric station, died suddenly Oct. 7 of apoplexy. Deceased had not been in good health for some There are too many major surgical operations being performed by drunken operators without sheepskins lately in down on a cot. About noon he was stricken, dying a couple of hours there after. Mr. Stanley was 56 years old; He was twice married and is survived by a son and daughter, George D. and Miss Harriet, both at home. Funeral was held from the home Saturday, Rev. Elizabeth Ward of Beloft Friends church conducting the service. Burial in Hope cemetery Salem. Six engine testing automobile runa-outs scain passed through the village

A company of eight farmers living bout Valley, who a number of years ago built and equipped for themselves telephone line, placed new wires along he route last week. These people ar on the Damascus exchange and through the board here reach the outside world. They, however, had the line established before the organization of Damascus telephone system and have a complete organization of their own, Fred Chrisen being president and Daniel Borton ecretary. Murray, little son of James King, south of Valley had a hand severely burned one day last week by a vessel ontaining hot jelly being overturned.

A street boy of diminutive stature was trying to sell some very young kittens to passersby. One day he accosted the late Rev. Phillips Brooks, asking him to purchase and recommending them as good Episcopal kittens. Dr. Brooks laughingly refused, thinking them too small to be taken from their mother. A few days later a Presbyterian minister who had witnessed this episode was asked by the same boy to buy the same kittens. This time the buy the same kittens. This time the Ind announced that they were fathful Presbyterians.

"Didn't you tell Dr. Brooks last week that they were Episcopal kittens?" the minister asked everaly.

"Yes, sir," replied the boy quickly, "but they's had their eyes uponed since them, sir."
